Where Is Our Soul?

We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strenghtened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts. that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become to self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, to proud to pray to the God that made us. It behooves us, then, to humble ourselves before the offended Power, to confess our national sins and to pray for clemency and forgiveness.

Longfellow

Victoria Espinal

When you are old and gray and full of sleep and nodding by the fire, take down this book
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep . . .

Catherine Faliano

It seems to me a crime that we should age.
These fragile times should never slip us by
A time we never can or shall erase
As friends together watch their childhood fly.

Nina Hannawalt

"The best way to know life is to love many things."

Robin Hansen

.... Here age relives fond memories of the past and here, youth may savor the challenge and promise of the future dedicated to the ideals the dreams, and the hard facts that have created America.

Myrna Harris

There's a season for beginnings, When the world is fresh and new, When we shape our dreams of all the things We plan and hope to do . . .

Laura Healy

"Music is the language of the spirit. It opens the secret of life, bringing peace, abolishing strife."

Sandra Henderson

As time goes by, many things can fade and lose their luster. But never our friendship for it shines brighter with each passing day...

And as we keep adding mutual memories to our collection, our friendship will keep growing too cious to all. That's why I'm so very happy I got to know you . . . and why I'm so glad that you're my friends.

Just For YOU: Today

"We're leaving," they said and wistfully smiled,
Their hands tightly clenching the love they had touched.
"I know," I replied from unfathomable miles,
Trying hard to pretend
That it could never end
While the breath of the night surrounded the air
Like a cold autumn wind that shaves the trees bare.

We spoke like the rainfall that drowns its own voice, Casting words from our hearts that rippled through time. They splashed through our laughter And cried for years after That the love was unfinished-the poem unrhymed.

We sat, and we talked, and we laughed, and we tried To break the current of pain on the tide.
But the waves crashed around usThe future surrounded us
Like an ocean of tears already dried.

Words haunted the shadows bound tightly in chains: A spectre, a promise, a laughing refrain That cursed tomorrow, shrouding today, And encircling the darkness, began to pray That the love we had given would not fade away.

I unbound their friendship and gave them freedom to fly; And my tears filled the silence though I couldn't cry. And I heard in the distance their loving reply... Dear God, how do I say good-bye?
